

SPANISH INFLUENZA

Resembles Old Fashioned Grip

The symptoms of Spanish Influenza are very similar to old fashioned grip—pains throughout the body, extreme dizziness, sleepiness, chills, high fever, headache, disturbed digestion with rumbling at the nose and eyes and excessive spitting, showing an inflammation and congestion of the mucous linings.

Manifested by Catarrhal Condition

With the first symptoms of Influenza, it is well to consult your family physician at once. It is not the disease itself that is to be feared so much as it is the complications which may follow. To ward off Spanish Influenza or as an aid to returning health after an attack, nothing is any better than Dr. Hartman's World Famous Ferrodine.

You Can't Rub It Away; Rheumatism is in the Blood

Liniments Will Never Cure.

If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you will never succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain, and go after that. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain. You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has never had an equal as a blood purifier and scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all trace of the disease from their system.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. at your drug store, and get on the right treatment to-day. If you want special medical advice, you can obtain it free by addressing Medical Director, 23 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

A vast disparity exists between the democratic and republican candidates for Congress in the Fifth district. Swagart Sherley, the democratic nominee for re-election, has served eight consecutive terms or 16 years, and in point of ability easily ranks among the foremost men in that body. As the chairman of the great Committee on Appropriations, he is a national figure, second only to the President in the conduct of the great world war. No man in the United States has such a grasp of the details of the national expenditures, and it is because of this fact that President Wilson has expressly urged his re-election to Congress at such a critical time in the national history. All that can be said for Charles F. Ogden, his republican opponent, is that he is a successful damage suit lawyer without public experience as a legislator, or in any other public capacity.

In the First district Judge Alben W. Barkley, the democratic nominee, who is up for re-election to a fourth term in Congress, is a member of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. Before his election to Congress, he served as County Attorney and County Judge of McCracken county and was widely known all over Western Kentucky. Opposing him the republicans have put up W. G. Howard, of Marshall county, who is scarcely known outside of his own county, and has never before figured in politics.

Congressman David H. Kincheloe, of the Second district, is another member of the Kentucky delegation who has made good in the two terms he has served, and he is running on his record for re-election as the democratic nominee. He is a member of the Committee on Merchant Marine, and has two other important assignments. There is recognized available republican congressional timber in the Second district, but the party put up against him an unknown in the person of Ben T. Robinson, of Boone county.

Having served four terms, Congressman R. Y. Thomas, Jr., of the Third district, is seeking re-election to a fifth term as the democratic nominee.

COMPARISONS ARE ODOROUS

Especially for the Republican Candidates This Year

Many unusual features mark the present campaign in Kentucky, but none stands out more prominently than the contrast between the democratic candidates for Senator, Congress and Appellate Judge, and their republican opponents, in the matter of their qualifications and public service. So marked is the contrast, that when considered from an efficiency basis, the democrats should have a walkover, for pitted against those who have served their constituents long and with ability, are, in nearly all cases, new and untried men, hardly known beyond the confines of their own counties.

No wider contrast is possible than that between Gov. A. O. Stanley and Dr. Ben L. Bruner, his republican opponent for the senatorship. Whatever his other claims, the bitterest enemy of Gov. Stanley readily concedes his eminent fitness for the senatorship, in point of ability and qualifications, by reason of his 12 years' service as a congressman, giving him the experience required for the office he seeks, and his nearly four years' service as governor. During his service in Congress Mr. Stanley was a member of the important committees on Rules and Agriculture, and, after the dethronement of Speaker Cannon, he assisted in framing the new House rules that governed the body until the democrats obtained a majority in the House of Representatives, when he was made chairman of the special committee to investigate the Steel Trust. Gov. Stanley is an able lawyer, and for many years was the chief counsel for the Kentucky tobacco growers, the mine workers and shippers in their fight against the railroads.

Against this record, Dr. Bruner, who aspires to wear the toga of a Kentucky senator, can only point to a service of one term in the Legislature as the Representative from Hart county, and four years as Secretary of State, when that office did not rise above the dignity of a clerkship to the governor. Dr. Bruner gained his degree when he graduated from a dental college, but it has been a long time since he worked with the forceps.

inee. He holds a place on the Judiciary Committee. His republican opponent, B. S. Huntsman, has been State senator.

In the Fourth district Congressman Ben Johnson, the democratic nominee, with five terms to his credit, is up for re-election to his sixth term. He is the chairman of the Committee on the District of Columbia, which conducts the affairs of the district and Washington City, making it one of the busiest and highly important House committees. The public service of his republican opponent, John P. Haswell, includes a term as Representative in the Legislature from Breckinridge county, and United States Commissioner.

Against Congressman Arthur B. Rouse, who is seeking re-election to a fourth term as the democratic nominee in the Sixth district, and who, as a member of the important Committee on Postoffice and Postroads, and in other ways has rendered distinguished service to his constituents and the State, the republicans have put up Virgil Weaver, of Pendleton county, who was never heard of before.

During his four terms Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill, of the Seventh district, the democratic candidate for re-election, has been one of the hardest working members of that body and is recognized as one of the most influential men in Congress. He is chairman of the Committee on Industrial Arts and Expositions, and has a place on the important Rules Committee that affects far-reaching legislation. His republican opponent, A. B. Hammond, of Estill county, is a "dark horse" that was never heard of before.

Another democratic Congressman now seeking re-election to a sixth term, is Harvey Heim, of the Eighth district, and chairman of the Committee on the Census, which will be one of the most important in the next Congress, preparatory to taking the 1920 census. His republican opponent is E. L. Davison, of Lincoln county, a newcomer, whose remote claim to a seat in Congress is that he is a brother of George M. Davison, who served one term in Congress from 1897 to 1899.
